Newsletter

The left column starts the story about the new menu, which launches in every store on the first of the month with three new items.

The right column carries on with the training plan: every team member watches the video and passes the quiz before the launch day.